UW CHAPTER

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY IN PSYCHOLOGY

WHAT IS PSI CHI?

Psi Chi is the National Honor Society in Psychology, founded in 1929 for the purpose of encouraging, stimulating, and maintaining excellence in scholarship and advancing the science of psychology. Psi Chi provides national recognition for academic excellence in psychology, an honor that can be noted on employment applications, vitae, and resumes. Through membership in Psi Chi, students gain a sense of community with others in psychology. For more information see the UW Psi Chi web site at:

<http://students.washington.edu/psichi>.

Requirements for Full Membership

- Completion of at least 5 quarters or 3 semesters at an accredited college or university.
- Completion of at least 14 quarter credits of psychology.
- Registration for major standing in psychology at the UW.
- Overall cumulative GPA of at least 3.20 (UW only) and a minimum psychology GPA of 3.40 (UW only).

Requirements for Associate Member *

- Associate members must be enrolled as undergraduate students at UW
- Completion of one psychology course at the UW.
- Overall cumulative GPA of at least 3.20 (UW only).

* Please note: As an Associate Member of Psi Chi at UW, you are not a member of National Psi Chi.

Associate Membership at UW gives you the opportunity to take part in all Psi Chi activities at the UW. In the event that you should wish to apply for Full Membership at a later date, you will only need to pay the onetime registration fee of $45.00, which pays for national membership.

Membership in Psi Chi is open to qualified candidates of any age, sex, sexual orientation, race, handicap or disability, color, religion, and national or ethnic origins as outlined in the national by-laws and the University of Washington Student Handbook.
