RE: Inject #7: Encrypted Blueprints

Recently, Shark Industries was forced to fire a troubled employee named Loki Jones. When security was escorting Loki off company premises, there was a flash drive found on his person. This flash drive was retained by security and immediately imaged. Located on your file server is a raw disk image of that flash drive at Shares/Users/administrator/evidence/lokijones_001.zip.

Loki is suspected of trying to smuggle out blueprints to the MARC Reactor on this flash drive. It is critical to know what the files contain. Please use whatever means necessary to discover the content of the encrypted files. Write up what you find and email me back.
